Didn't explain things well in discussion sections, not very approachable

Great

He is very friendly and supportive of those needing help with the material.

No offense to him, but he is a bad TA . I did not bother to go to his discussions, but I am glad I did not waste my time in there. Even watching his discussion videos gives me a headache. He should first of all wear a mic, because I recount two discussion days where he forgot to wear it. Secondly, his discussion sessions where he is supposed to go over the homework is hard to follow as he writes on the blackboard with very little to no organization. He might be good at answering questions and all, but just going over the homework in an effective manner is something he can improve on.

Only using the black board for homework problems was a bit hard to follow. Using the projector with either text or writing is a lot easier to follow.

Really great TA and wanted students to learn the concepts. Often went the extra step to help students out as well!

Thank you!!

The only con is that he didn't have a device to project his work. So his teaching style was very old-fashioned, which there isn't anything bad with. But sometimes he would keep going and in the discussion podcasts, since there is a 10 minute interval between each, whatever was said in that 10 minutes, I would be clueless about what happened because he would keep going, so if you have this IA, I recommend going in person rather than watching the podcasts!
